OCCD SC 02-08-2022 Motion for Miscellaneous Relief

Filed By: Jeffrey Mandell

Decision Date: 2-10-2022

IT IS ORDERED that the intervenors-defendants-appellants' motion for leave to file a reply brief is granted and the reply brief submitted with the motion is accepted for filing; and
IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the emergency motion to extend the stay filed by intervenors-defendants-appellants, Disability Rights Wisconsin, Wisconsin Faith Voices for Justice, and League of Women Voters of Wisconsin, and the motion to stay the circuit court's final order filed by the defendant-co-appellant, Wisconsin Elections Commission, both motions joined by intervenor-defendant-co-appellant, Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, are held in abeyance until further order of the court.

REBECCA GRASSL BRADLEY, J. (concurring). An oft-cited maxim in the law holds that like cases should be treated alike. Consistency ensures parties are not being treated unequally based on illegitimate considerations. Of course, upon further reflection a judge may realize her prior position was in error, and might offer an explanation as simple as: The matter does not appear to me now as it appears to have appeared to me then.¹ When, however, a judge does not explain or even acknowledge a shift in perspective, her inconsistency creates an appearance of partiality.²
